Pol' was inducted into American history by creating the Inaugural ball gown worn by California's former First Lady Sharon Davis. The gown was subsequently donated to the California State Capital Museum, joining a prestigious collection of gowns worn by former First Ladies.

Jacob - Shoes for The Stars - www.shoesforthestars.com A big, red heart rests on a black background. No name. No other design. It's simple. Modest. Understated. Yet this unassuming logo represents one of the best-kept secrets in Hollywood. It's "Shoes for the Stars." Located in the heart of Melrose Avenue, in Los Angeles, California, this shoe store is more than a place to find the average "perfect pump." It's a place to create personal style. In addition, the man to do that is Jacob, the creative genius and designer of the footwear that makes a stir at photo shoots, press events, and red-carpet catwalks all over Hollywood. 25 years in the fashion/shoe, industry has been well spent for Jacob. With one of his custom-designed styles, the "little black dress" can be taken up to a whole new level. In fact, most of his styles will take a client up several inches. Flats are well, "flat," in Jacob's world. His clients enjoy a more "elevated" experience. Brittany Spears, Beyonce, Eve Longoria-Parker, Erykah Badu, Sasha Campbell actually enjoyed 12" of height on her last world tour thanks to him. The heart on the business card is no mistake. Shoes are Jacob's passion and love
