May 7, 2008 – Coral Springs, FL – The Paul Green School of Rock Music- Coral Springs and QuickTrackz Recording Studios in conjunction with Sarah Benckenstein, a junior at Coral Springs High School is proud to announce the First Annual “Rock for the Cure” Charity Concert.

The all-day, outdoor music event is being held at the SportsPlex @ Coral Springs on Saturday, May 31st. The Paul Green School of Rock Music – Coral Springs will kick off the day with a special performance of Pink Floyd’s “The Wall” followed by 12 local bands including nationally touring headliner and Ft. Lauderdale’s own And Then There Was You (Indianola Records).

This event is not only a must-attend for music lover’s it is also an excellent opportunity to support a great cause. A portion of all proceeds go to benefit the Juvenile Diabetes Research Foundation. “Everyone who attends should take pride in knowing their participation, along with the generous support of our sponsors does make a difference and is helping JDRF move closer to finding a cure for diabetes forever,” says Sarah Benckenstein Chairperson Rock for the Cure.

Admission to the show is $10. Advanced tickets may be purchased for $7 by calling 954.757.ROCK. “It’s an incredible opportunity for the sponsors, the bands, and all those who attend. We get to help a really worthy cause, hear some incredible live music and have a blast doing it,” adds Paul Green School of Rock – Coral Springs Director Susan Cobb.

The Juvenile Diabetes Research Foundation International (JDRF) is the leading charitable funder and advocate for research on Type 1 Diabetes. Founded in 1970 by parents to find a cure for diabetes, JDRF has directed more than $1billion in grants for diabetes research to the world’s leading laboratories, universities, and medical centers. More information is available at WWW.JDRF.ORG.

The Paul Green School of Rock Music is the nation’s premiere interactive, performance-based music school offering a wide-variety of lessons and programs for students of all ages.
