

Media5 Corporation's Premier VoIP Gateway Mediatrix 4100 Series Garners "Product of the Year" Award

Internet Telephony Highlights Media5's Mediatrix 4100 Series as an industry leader in VoIP technologies

Sherbrooke, QUEBEC, February 10, 2009 – Media5 Corporation, a leading developer of advanced MMoIP technologies and services, today announced that Technology Marketing Corporation's (TMC®) Internet Telephony Magazine has named Media5's premier VoIP Gateways, the Mediatrix 4100 Series, as recipient of its 2008 Product of the Year Award. Each year TMC selects Internet telephony products based on their uniqueness and innovative application for this award.

Upon award notification, Media5's PLM Director for the Mediatrix brand, Marc Skinner, commented "It is always gratifying to be acknowledged as an industry leader by one of the most respected media organizations in the technology industry. We have always believed that our success is a direct result of our clients achievements and satisfaction. This award is the result of our team's ongoing mission to deliver outstanding VoIP solutions to the service provider and enterprise marketplaces."

Mediatrix 4100 Series VoIP Access Points Models

- Mediatrix 4102: 2 analog FXS ports
- Mediatrix 4104: 4 analog FXS ports
- Mediatrix 4104plus: 4 analog FXS ports (additional Ethernet port)
- Mediatrix 4108: 8 analog FXS ports
- Mediatrix 4116: 16 analog FXS ports
