

GLEEDO TO PRESENT AT VENTURE ASSOCIATION NEW JERSEY EVENT

Edgewater, NJ – October 21, 2009 (PR.com) – Gleedo™ (www.gleedo.com) today announced that it will present and exhibit at the Venture Association New Jersey (VANJ) “Fall 2009 Expo & Elevator Pitch Olympics,” taking place this Friday, October 23, 2009 at the Marriott Hannover in Whippany, New Jersey. The yearly event offers a showcase for emerging companies to connect with investors and engage with the New Jersey business community.

“With the launch of our beta earlier this month, Gleedo became the first and only application to offer real-time, blended content sharing over the Internet,” said Mehrdad Nadooshan, CEO of Emerj, Inc. (maker of Gleedo), “We are at an inflection point. Simultaneous, live sharing of both personal and online content, overlaid with talk and chat, is the next wave in Internet communication and collaboration. We are thrilled to introduce Gleedo to the investor community.”

Gleedo is secure “Any Media” collaboration software that offers a blend of real-time personal media sharing and real-time Internet sharing (for example, users can watch Hulu together and engage in shared browsing). Using the Gleedo Media Locker™ feature, users may share videos, share music, share movies, share documents and share pictures from their personal media collections and watch live with friends and family. Live collaboration features, including synchronous streaming, talk and chat, make participants feel as if they are all in the same room.

Additionally, users can make their personal content available to friends and family members to view whenever they wish. Security and privacy features, such as view-only access, avoid copyright problems and prevent unauthorized distribution of personal content (for example, friends or family members re-posting personal videos on video and picture sharing sites).
