comCables Wine Tasting Benefit is a Tremendous Success

DENVER, CO (March 31, 2010) – Denver-based comCables sponsored the Here's Life Inner City - Denver (HLIC-Denver) Wine Tasting & Silent Auction Benefit for the 6th consecutive year. The HLIC-Denver Wine Tasting Benefit was held at the Tivoli in Denver on the evening of March 27, 2010. The event, attended by 115 wine enthusiasts, raised nearly $13,000 for HLIC-Denver.

Here's Life Inner City - Denver, part of a national chain of inner-city programs, is a 501c3 organization that assists the poorest Denver neighborhoods with practical and spiritual support. The organization provides a positive resource for at-risk young adults, which keeps them out of gangs and away from violence by providing after school programs, recreational sports and tutoring.

"The success that the at-risk youth have experienced through this organization is exceptional." says Salt Wall, founder of Here's Life Inner City - Denver while discussing some of the at-risk youth that were in attendance, "Thanks to the money raised at this event, we can make a difference one life, one family at a time!"

This event was a major fundraiser for HLIC-Denver, which has struggled financially due to a decrease in donations during the recent economic downturn. comCables has been a major financial contributor to HLIC-Denver for nearly a decade. In addition to financial resources, comCables has provided mentoring and tutoring to many of the young adults involved in the HLIC-Denver programs.

"This event is important to comCables since we exist to serve our community," continues Greg Greenwood, CEO of comCables. "especially such vital organizations as Here's Life Inner City."
