

Sassine Mazraani

CEO

Emerging Technologies

sym@em-t.com; www.em-t.com

Mr. Sassine Mazraani, CEO - Emerging Technologies is a computer science and strategic management professional with over 20 years of experience in the field of information technology. He carries with him a solid background in strategic marketing and business development. Before relocating to the Middle East in 2001 and through other business ventures he opened markets in Canada, United States, Caribbean and the Far East.

Besides setting the company direction and managing the day to day operation, Mr. Mazraani has developed strategies for introducing and deploying speech recognition solutions in various industry sectors. Under his leadership, Emerging Technologies set the trend for Speech in this market by bringing on board the top blue chip organizations of the Middle Eastern and Gulf markets.

Besides his current position with the Company, Mr. Mazraani serves as an advisory and board member with several local and multi-national organizations.