Excalibur Technology Announces Tampa, FL Franchise Opens!

Barrington, IL – Scott Cummings, founder and President of Excalibur Technology formally announced the grand opening of the Tampa, FL franchise office.

Cummings stated, "I am pleased to announce the opening of Tampa, our third Florida location. Another location in Clearwater, FL will be opening next month as well. Excalibur Technology promises to bring the same great service to Bay Area businesses as we have across the nation. In these unusual economic times it is important for business owners to save money where they can and ensure that their I.T. spending is carefully controlled. We are the only nationwide franchise company to offer a complete set of business technology solutions including network support, website design, programming and data center services. We make effective use of technology to help our clients save."

Excalibur Technology continues to help business owners reduce their technology costs and increase their productivity by offering several packages including flat rate cost support. This allows any size business to exactly budget their I.T. spending which can often spiral out of control. Excalibur Technology employees are business consultants and certified engineers – not just computer repair "geeks". Because Excalibur Technology believes in America, all of their work and support is performed by staff members in the USA – they never outsource.

The Tampa, FL office is headed by owner James (Jim) Roysdon, a 20 year Information Technology (IT) veteran with extensive experience in business consulting and management. He has worked for numerous corporations including Ford Motor Company, Ameritech (AT&T), and Eli Lilly, and private firms like RCI and PricewaterhouseCoopers. Jim's technology background includes experience in all areas of IT, from support through project management. Regarding the Excalibur Technology opportunity Jim states, "I am thrilled to be able to provide the best technological services to the Tampa area. With over 16 years of experience, Excalibur Technology has documented best practices on many IT solutions for the small and medium size business community. Large corporations have many departments to handle their IT needs; here in Tampa, you have us."
