Government helps Singapore SMEs in their fight for talent

Singapore, January 24, 2011 – aQayo, the leading provider of Applicant Tracking System in Asia, today announced that its e-recruitment solution is now one of the software listed under the packaged solutions of iSPRINT (Increase SME Productivity with Infocomm Adoption & Transformation).

Under this scheme, Singapore small and medium enterprises (SMEs) can claim up to 50 percent of the qualifying costs, capped at S$10,000, for the purchase / subscription of the first packaged solution listed under each solution category. This is subject to fulfilling the SME eligibility criteria and the availability of funds.

aQayo is a software-as-a-service (SaaS) e-recruitment solution offered by Edgilis Pte Ltd – a Singapore-based aQayo Gold Partner providing local support, training and implementation services.

“SMEs who are first-time adopters of talent management software can benefit from an easy-to-implement packaged solution to better manage their hiring process, recruitment data, and build stronger relationships with their future talents.” said Julien Arnaud, CEO, Edgilis Pte Ltd.

aQayo was designed to help organizations of every size realize their potential to meet world class talent and human capital management needs. SMEs can now gain all of the competitive advantages of aQayo in their fight for talent, including:

- Streamlined hiring process
- Accelerated time to hire
- Reduced hiring and administration costs
- Coordinated recruitment activities
- Stronger employer branding

New customers can benefit from a full-featured implementation of aQayo for their organization free of charge for one month. This solution helps companies set up a professional career website and efficiently manage all their recruiting activities, from sourcing of candidates to on-boarding of new employees.
