

VersaSuite is the first company to achieve the CCHIT® Women's Health certification

VersaSuite, provider of highly integrated and secure electronic health record (EHR) and practice management solutions, announced today that it was the first company to earn the Women's Health certification offered by the Certification Commission for Health Information Technology (CCHIT®).

VersaSuite is proud to announce that with the Women's Health CCHIT® certification, no company has more ambulatory certifications than VersaSuite.

"The CCHIT® certification in Women's Health vigorously evaluates how well OB/GYN EHRs perform numerous vital clinical and practice management functions. We are extremely proud to be the very first EHR to have completed the Women's Health certification successfully." said Dr. Robert Marcus – MD, FACOG, Medical Director at VersaSuite.

CCHIT is an Office of the National Coordinator for Health Information Technology (ONC) authorized testing and certification body (ONC-ATCB) for meaningful use criteria. Adding to VersaSuite's ONC-ATCB 2011-2012 certification as a Complete EHR for Eligible Providers from CCHIT, the company recently announced its attainment of ONC-ATCB 2011-2012 In-Patient certification, also from CCHIT, as a complete EHR.
