

Lattice Communications triples revenues and doubles work force in 2011

FAIRFAX, Iowa, February 22, 2012 - Lattice Communications, the U.S.'s largest stocking dealer of telecommunications shelters, cabinets, generators and towers including new rectifiers, fire suppression, H.V.A.C. and construction services, tripled revenue and doubled in work force in 2011 in the midst of the most challenging economic climate since the Great Depression.

By making prudent choices with the company direction in the marketplace, Lattice's outlook for the next year and beyond is excellent with tremendous opportunities for both short and long term growth.

"We are positioned better than ever to deliver larger, more comprehensive services for both construction and equipment supplies," said Bruce Leventhal, President of Lattice Communications. "By deepening our relationships with manufacturers, expanding our manufacturing of new shelters and coupled with the release of innovative product offerings, the upcoming years will prove to be incredibly exciting with continued exponential growth."

Improved training programs, new Fortune 500 employee benefits, upgraded infrastructure and software applications will help Lattice Communications to become prepared for increased and sustainable enterprise growth in 2012.

###

Media Contacts:

Adam Martin

319-845-6001 (ext. 1009)

press@latticebiz.com

www.latticebiz.com

About Lattice Communications:

Lattice Communications is the nation's largest stocking dealer of telecommunications shelters, cabinets, generators and towers including new rectifiers, fire suppression, H.V.A.C. and construction services. Lattice provides generator monitoring and emergency generator leasing where you are guaranteed 99% reliability. Our elite partnerships with manufacturers provides top tier pricing and attractive leasing options that we share with our customers – yielding them the industries top pricing advantage. You can feel confident in the value you receive from Lattice. If your project requires unique specifications or difficult timelines, Lattice Communications manufacturers our own line of custom concrete shelters to meet your projects demanding needs. Need control over your project from start to finish with one point of contact? Lattice Communications has the unique ability to provide its own in-house turn-key construction services across the U.S. including: civil, concrete, electrical and project management. Lattice's products and services are unified with its in-house logistics business – eliminating the middle man – providing efficiency and savings.