Seattle, WA – October 29, 2015

Wagly, an innovative pet care company dedicated to bringing a new level of health and happiness to pets and their parents, announced the launch of its first offering: Wagly Home.

Wagly Home brings the best in pet care directly to your doorstep, starting November 2nd, in Bellevue and the Greater East Side. Services include Sit, Stay, Walk and Style. To celebrate the launch of the company and introduce the community to the happy, healthy Wagly way, the company will be offering a buy one, get one free special through November 30, 2015.

Later this year, Wagly will be opening the first of a number of pet campuses, with plans in place to rapidly expand in Washington, California and beyond. Wagly campuses will provide a complete range of pet services in vibrant 10,000+ square foot facilities so pets can Play, Stay and Learn in an engaging and nurturing environment, and come home with a fresh Style. Every Campus will feature an onsite, state-of-the-art veterinary Health center. For busy pet parents, Wagly's Ride service will deliver a new level of convenience and simplicity bringing their pets safely to and from its campus.

"As pet parents, we understand that pets really are family," said Alexander Petersen, Co-Founder and Co-CEO of Wagly. "That's why we are designing an entirely new pet experience, based on a very simple idea: doing what's right for the pet. This requires seeing a pet's full picture: both mind and body. Whether you have a young dog that is full of energy and would benefit from socializing with its peers, or a senior cat that requires specialized kidney care, our teams include highly trained animal handlers and on site veterinarians with access to the latest behavioral science and medical technology.”

The company also announced the winner of its Pet Pampering Give Away Experience. Beth Muscat of Sammamish, WA will receive two Home Sitzings and Walks, two Nature & Fitness Hikes, two Home Style appointments and a Preventive Health exam, which she will split between, Max her Yorkie and Nahla her German Shepard.

“Max and Nahla really are my babies,” said Ms. Muscat. “So it’s great to see a company like Wagly that’s focused on making pets happy and keeping them healthy, while at the same time making my life easier. Max, Nahla and I can’t wait to try out Wagly’s new services.”
