Michael Sanders wrote "Don't You Know I Love You" for everyone to enjoy and relate too. Through his journey in self discovery working with youth at a boys home in Oklahoma, Michael discovered his creative side in the world of music. His songs all come from experiences he has had through his journey in life while working with those struggling with addictions. This CD was created by him to help inspire others and he was blessed by those around him willing to help see his vision for this project come to life. A few members of his church the Apostolic Church of Jesus Christ were able to lend their voices to help complete his project. The "Don't You Know I Love You" album was produced by an extremely talented, up and coming producer by the name of Anthony Saunders. The album also featured talented musical artist such as, Lisa Chavis, Bryon Gunn and Rosiland Williams and saxophone by Willie Thorton.
