Lake Cable Evolves The Cable Distribution System Major update of CableM8 to make debut at ISC West show in Las Vegas

Bensenville, IL (March 23, 2016) - Wire and cable installation can be a time-consuming endeavor for many installers in the field armed with only a simple utility cart. Fortunately, Lake Cable, one of the top wire and cable manufacturers in the country, is launching a major update to its CableM8 Cable Distribution System aimed at dramatically improving the installation process.

While the 4th generation company has built its reputation on producing high quality cable for a variety of industries, Lake Cable's effort to create a cable distribution system comes in response to a need expressed by installers. Namely, a way to make each install more efficient in terms of transporting and dispensing cable.

The CableM8 meets this demand by providing the ability to pull up to 6,000 feet of cable when installers load 4 eco-friendly bags onto the cart as well as up to 2 boxes or reels. Bags can be changed while others are dispensing, making the process a seamless one with no downtime.

Each CableM8 Bag loaded onto the CableM8 system is an innovation in itself. The shrink-wrap packaging of the bags offers a far better alternative to traditional cardboard boxes, particularly for disposal. The used packaging is stuffed into an empty CableM8 bag for easy recycling. The result is up to 30x less on-site waste.

The CableM8 can also address tight spaces like clean rooms and data centers, which can be a challenge for maneuvering a large cart. The CableM8 is able to move through any door and is simple to turn in areas with limited room.

This newest version of the CableM8 cable distribution system is making its debut at ISC West in Las Vegas on April 6th – 8th, one of the largest trade shows of the year for professionals in the security industry.
