THE ILLUSIONS

Says Amodei: “The creation of an illusion is my personal agony and ecstasy. An idea for one can come to me anywhere – a coffee shop, a deli, a quiet walk through the city.

“From there, I can’t get it out of my mind – I have to make it a reality. Shortly afterward, I begin early construction, choreography and staging of the piece. I typically have no idea where I’m going with it, which is both fun and frustrating – again, agony and ecstasy.

“Frustration usually wins, and I often go running off to find a good book to read. But inevitably, I return to my work after a brief hiatus. This time, I have a better understanding of the illusion’s story line. What do I want to say? Which music is perfect for it? And finally, what do I want you as the audience member to experience?

“I’m privileged to share with you some of my favorite illusions that I have created over the years. Some may be dangerous, some may be funny such as “It’s Destined to Happen,” and others might be thought-provoking or inspirational like “Mona Lisa’s Secret,” “The Miracle Worker” and “Time is Precious,” but all of them share a vital element: an important, deeply-felt message about humanity and life.”

THE MUSIC

Beautiful music hangs gently in the air - the first of many spells that will be cast during your experience. The cellist offers high notes and deep sounds which demonstrate danger, majesty, terror, levity or deep thought surrounding the illusions. The interactive ability of the cellist allows improvisation to the often-unplanned spontaneous moments of each performance, thus making each show unrepeatable from the previous.
