

Proclamation

ISM-Houston

ISM-Houston, Inc. is the Houston affiliate of the Institute for Supply Management (ISM) with over 750 members representing the thriving area industries of oil and gas, petrochemicals, healthcare and construction, among many others.

ISM-Houston, Inc. is a nonprofit association representing 762 supply management professionals in manufacturing, government, educational, institutional, and service organizations throughout the Houston area.

ISM-Houston, Inc.'s mission is to support and drive the success of supply management professionals through highly effective training and development programs and by providing strong leadership and networking opportunities. It serves all supply chain professionals in the Houston area, including students pursuing a supply chain related degree.

On March 14, 2017, in recognition of Supply Management Month, ISM-Houston, Inc. will host a Pre-Dinner Meeting and a Professional Dinner Meeting, presenting Cheryl Smith and Brian Fielkow, at the Houston Marriott West Loop. The City of Houston commends ISM-Houston, Inc. for its commitment to representing the thriving area industries and extends best wishes for a successful event.

Therefore, I, Sylvester Turner, Mayor of the City of Houston, hereby proclaim March 14, 2017, as in Houston, Texas.

ISM-Houston Day

In Witness Whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and have caused the Official Seal of the City of Houston to be affixed this 2nd day of March, 2017.

Sylvester Turner
Mayor of the City of Houston
