Courtney Sanders presents Success Circle Live! in New Orleans

Women's empowerment brand, Think & Grow Chick, presents the inaugural Success Circle Live! - Connecting the Dots.

Dallas, TX – (July 13, 2017) Women's empowerment brand, Think & Grow Chick, presents the inaugural Success Circle Live! - Connecting the Dots. Success Circle Live! is an annual conference for members of Think & Grow Chick's monthly business membership, The Success Circle. Members of the Success Circle are entrepreneurial women from all over the country who are launching a wide range of businesses. This year's Success Circle Live! seeks to bring Success Circle members together for a fun and engaging weekend of business strategy, inspiration, and connections.

The theme of this year's Success Circle Live! is "Connecting the Dots," as participants will receive programming designed to help them "connect the dots" in the following areas:

1. "Connect the Dots" in Your Business - The first part of Success Circle Live! will feature keynotes and panels that will help participants plan everything from the business model that works best for their unique products and services to the marketing strategies that will best catapult their business to success.
2. "Connect the Dots" in Your Network - The second part of Success Circle Live! will feature keynotes and panels that will teach participants savvy in-person and online networking strategies to help create an authentic and powerful business network.
3. "Connect the Dots" to Your Mission - The last part of Success Circle Live! will feature keynotes and panels to help participants connect their work as entrepreneurs to their greater desire to make an impact in the world.

Success Circle Live! will be held in New Orleans September 8-10, 2017.

About Courtney Sanders

Courtney Sanders is an entrepreneur, speaker, and rising authority on women's empowerment. Through her training and development company, Think & Grow Chick, LLC, Courtney provides online & in-person education, mentorship, and community for millennial women. Courtney is particularly passionate about personal development, as she personally experienced the consequences of poor habits and a lack of discipline when she found herself failing school and in serious credit card debt by just her sophomore year in college. After educating herself on the "ins and outs" of personal development, money management, and entrepreneurship, Courtney climbed her way out of debt in a few short years and went on to successfully launch Think & Grow Chick.

Since then, Courtney has had the opportunity to speak to and develop training programs for a number of organizations, including The White House My Brother's Keeper and Council on Women and Girls, Black MBAs, Credit Karma, and Levo League, among others. Courtney has also designed personal and entrepreneurial development curriculum for Urban League Young Professionals and Women's Business Enterprise National Council (WBENC).

In 2015 she authored the book, Get What You Want: The Ultimate Guide to Figuring Out + Getting What You Want in Life which has since served as a catalyst for several related trainings and programs. Known for her gift of breaking down complex concepts in a fresh and relatable way, Courtney reaches over 75,000 women every month through her blog and social media platforms, where she frequently provides self-help, entrepreneurship, and financial literacy advice.

A Detroit, MI native, Courtney holds a Bachelor of Business Administration in Marketing and previously worked for the FDIC as a commissioned Bank Resolutions Specialist. She currently lives in Dallas, TX with her husband, Jomaine.
