

MY STORY

Inclusive Brands, is owned and operated by a First Nations Native American Woman. My journey began when I was born on the Mohawk Territories of the Iroquois Nation where I am proud to say my family resides to this day. As a woman, being raised on an Indian reservation, at a very early age I learned the meaning of Inclusivity. That is one of the reasons I have decided to enter into a career of entrepreneurship and establish a company that is dedicated to inclusivity, acceptance, and tolerance for all.

The word "Inclusive" is straightforward, it encompasses all, and excludes none. I invite you to join me on this journey.

As a Native American, I believe that one simple word "Inclusive" can change an industry and the world. We hope to achieve that goal.

We will always be a socially responsible company and with our resources we will work to protect our environment like my ancestors have done for hundreds of years and to give back to Native American community organizations that support health and wellness for Native Americans.

We hope to build on a powerful portfolio of Wine & Spirits and Consumer Products combined with our commitment to social responsibility, high ethical standards, trust, and dedication to ensure that Inclusive Brands plays an important role in the future of the Wine & Spirits and Consumer Products industries.

I know our journey will be difficult, but I like the dreams of the future. We look forward to gaining support from the business world and the Wine & Spirits Industry to achieve our goal of spreading inclusivity. Hopefully, Inclusive Brands will help encourage other Native Americans to enter into the world of entrepreneurial enterprise.

At Inclusive Brands we put a little Native Pride in everything we do. Love anchors the world . . .
