

Smoke Show Incense

$26.00

Traditional Korean incense by Collins. Crafted using the ancient "Sun-hyang" technique, these sticks are made without a bamboo core, using a combination of wood and oil. With 94% natural ingredients, they offer a healthier and delicately scented experience.

Carving It Up Knife Set

$620.00

A stunning carving knife, meat fork, and a grey leather storage pouch made in South Korea by designer Shin In-Young, these tool's handles are made of shade-dried wood to achieve the correct weight, and water resistance. The blades are made from recycled railroad tracks.

A Cut Above Pencils

$50.00

These pencils are as striking as they are functional. Made in Zurich, Tät-Tat produces playful designs that charm the eye + delight the mind. The husband and wife team are former teachers who work hand in hand with social work institutions throughout Switzerland and Germany.

'Buy You a Drink?' Syrup

$34.00

Distilled in Japan using six different trees in the process, all ingredients are extracted from natural aromatic wood from the mountains of Japan. An aroma component known as Phytoncide is contained in several native Japanese trees and once extracted and distilled, has a refreshing aroma of citrus and berries.

'Dig It' Hand Fork

$170.00

Made by South Korea's oldest blacksmith, Shin In-Young, the tool's handles are made of shade-dried wood to achieve the correct weight and water resistance. The blades are made from recycled railroad tracks. Expertly designed with a convex shape to keep soil from sticking + the angle of the handle reduces wrist fatigue.

'Dig It' Hand Trowel

$170.00

Made by South Korea's oldest blacksmith, Shin In-Young, the tool's handles are made of shade-dried wood to achieve the correct weight and water resistance. The blades are made from recycled railroad tracks. The trowel's handle is made level with the blade of the shovel, so your wrist is comfortable at all angles.

'Dig It' Hand Rake

$175.00

Made by South Korea's oldest blacksmith, Shin In-Young, the tool's handles are made of shade-dried wood for years to achieve the correct weight, stability and water resistance. The blades are made from recycled railroad tracks.

Game-Changer Chess Set

$690.00

This re-edition of the 1920s Wooden Chess Set is based on the original 1920 Man Ray Wooden Chess Set in the Metropolitan Museum of Art and was the inspiration for a larger silver version in the MoMA collection.

Play With Fire Set

$440.00

This set of 3 hand-forged fireplace tools by Conmoto is made from recycled Italian railroad tracks. This set includes a Tong, Poker and Shovel. Eco-friendly and the modern solution for home and hearth accessories.

Raise The Bar... Of Chocolate

$10.50

Made by the oldest Belgian chocolate company still in operation, Meurisse chocolate is made from single-origin, fair trade, organic cacao. Founded by Adolphe Meurisse in 1845 in Belgium, Meurisse was awarded several honors at the Exposition International d'Anvers and again at the World Expo in Brussels. Still family owned and operated, this chocolate is truly decadent.

Practically Perfect Soap

$13.00

Infused with pure essential oils + made entirely from plant-based materials, these soaps boast a unique shape that prevents oxidation. Made in Japan by Tamanohada, their history dates back to 1892 during the Edo period as a producer of a spherical white soap ball called the "skin soap ball". It was known for its superior quality as a cosmetic product.

Drink Up Carafe Set

$240.00

Experience the elegance of tea time with this beautifully crafted tea set. Handmade in Japan, the Kumagai company was founded in 1935 and specializes in producing traditional Kyoto pottery (Kyoyaki-Kiyomizuyaki), a type of earthenware popular in Kyoto and Japan.