SAVING ABEL ANNOUNCES FALL 2025 TOUR AND INTRODUCES POWERFUL NEW LINEUP

July 2025 - Southern rock mainstays Saving Abel are hitting the road starting early October 2025, with a powerful new lineup and a coast-to-coast U.S. tour, reigniting the fire that made them a rock-radio staple.

Founding guitarists Jason Null and Scott Bartlett are joined by veteran bassist and producer Scott Wilson, bringing depth, energy, and experience to the band's unmistakable sound.

Joining the fold are Garfield Redden on drums and Randy Webb on vocals-both from the band One Day Alive. Redden's explosive, precise percussion and Webb's raw, soulful voice inject new life into the group, while honoring the hard-hitting Southern roots that define Saving Abel.

With renewed chemistry and a stage show to match, this lineup delivers a refreshed Saving Abel-classic fire with a modern spark.
