MEMPHIS, TN — November 2025 — Making global history, Ms. Scroogeworth: A Christmas Musical first premiered in December 2023, marking the world's first Black female–led and produced reimagining of Charles Dickens' A Christmas Carol. Now returning to Memphis for its 2025 mainstage season, the production brings a bold new vision of the classic redemption story through faith, culture, and the power of Black storytelling.

A REIMAGINED HOLIDAY MUSICAL WITH SOUL

Ms. Scroogeworth: A Christmas Musical blends timeless themes with a fresh cultural perspective, offering a vibrant celebration of transformation, community, and joy.

This original, gender-flipped reimagining of Charles Dickens' A Christmas Carol brings the classic tale into present-day Memphis, where Ebony Scroogeworth, a sharp, successful businesswoman, has buried her joy beneath ambition and isolation. When she is visited by the Timeweavers of her Past, Present, and Future, she must confront the cost of her choices and rediscover the true meaning of the holiday season.

Told through original music, live vocals, gospel harmonies, and cinematic choreography, Ms. Scroogeworth transforms a familiar tale into a vibrant celebration of community, compassion, and second chances, offering a fresh perspective that resonates across generations and cultures.

"This isn't just an adaptation; it's a reclamation. It's our story told through our rhythm, our faith, and our truth. Memphis deserves that kind of legacy on stage." Chambliss-Williams adds, "This is a new Memphis tradition, created, directed, and produced by a team of Black creatives."
