Archive Storage

Maximize Storage. Maximize Revenue.

At Integrity, we specialize in high-density archive storage solutions for records management providers. Whether you operate a single facility or manage a network of locations, we design systems that increase capacity, support compliance, and enable long-term growth.

Every additional carton you store adds to your bottom line. That is why our team goes beyond generic solutions to unlock the full potential of your space. We solve layout challenges that others overlook and tailor systems to fit the specific demands of your operation.

Our team is committed to leaving absolutely no doubt that you have achieved the maximum number of carton locations possible in your facility. We measure our success by how much the system delivers for your business.

Decades of Focused Experience. Built for Performance.

Founder and President Charles Pedrani has a long-standing reputation for pushing archive storage projects across the finish line with urgency and precision. When challenges come up, Charles and his team press forward. That mindset drives every project we take on.

Vice President Mark Mitchell brings a rare combination of experience to every project. He has worked for a pallet rack manufacturer and, in a separate role, managed operations for a large national records storage provider. This blend of experience is uncommon in the industry and gives him a deep understanding of both how rack is built and how it functions in active archive environments. Mark uses this insight to design systems that work around structural elements like columns, X bracing, and fire protection lines. Where others see obstacles, he finds opportunities to increase capacity and improve workflow.

That You Have Achieved The Maximum Number Of Box
Locations Possible In Your Facility.

We Measure Success Not Just By How The System Looks
But By How Much It Delivers For Your Business.

Complete Archive Storage Systems, Start to Finish

Together, we design and deliver archive racking systems that maximize capacity, support compliance, and fit your facility. From high-density layouts to multi-level systems and rack-supported mezzanines, every solution is customized to your space, workflow, and goals.

Our team coordinates directly with fire protection, electrical, lighting, and alarm contractors to ensure smooth integration. You get one point of contact, fewer delays, and a system that works as intended from day one.

We have helped archive storage providers expand, relocate, and reorganize without disrupting box inventory. Whether you are building from scratch or upgrading an existing facility, we deliver systems that perform and scale.

The Two Phone Call Promise

Clients appreciate our two-call approach. The first call is when you tell us what you need. The second is when we confirm it is done. In between, we handle the rest.
