“Veterans High Risk Security Solutions, Inc. Announces Grand Opening of new Los Angeles Office with Special Guest Senator Bob Archuleta, California Senate Military & Veterans Affairs Chair”

(LOS ANGELES, CA) — Veterans High Risk Security Solutions, Inc. proudly announces the grand opening of its new Los Angeles office on Memorial Day, May 25th at 2:00 PM, located at 431 S. Hewitt Street, Los Angeles, CA, in the heart of the DTLA Arts District.

Founded on the principles of service, protection, and integrity, Veterans High Risk Security Solutions continues its mission of delivering elite security services while creating opportunities for veterans and security professionals throughout California.

The grand opening celebration will be greeted by Senator Bob Archuleta, U.S. Army 82nd Airborne veteran, alongside invited guests Senator Maria Elena Durazo and Senator Ben Allen. The event will honor the sacrifices of military veterans and first responders while commemorating the company’s continued growth and commitment to community safety.

“This grand opening represents more than a new office location. It symbolizes our continued dedication to protecting communities, supporting veterans, and building a company grounded in discipline, leadership, and service,” said a representative from Veterans High Risk Security Solutions, Inc.

The Memorial Day event will feature:

- A patriotic community celebration honoring those who served
- Photo opportunities with a classic car and the iconic “Rosie the Riveter”
- Complimentary American flags for attendees
- Networking opportunities with community leaders, veterans, and business professionals

Veterans High Risk Security Solutions, Inc. is a certified veteran-owned business and holds multiple state and local certifications, reinforcing its commitment to excellence, diversity, and community partnership.

The company’s motto, “To Serve, Protect and Defend,” reflects its mission to provide professional security services with military-grade discipline and unwavering integrity.
