

VillaAuction.com delivers increased occupancy and rental income for holiday Villas and Gites in France and Spain.

With occupancy rates down for the 3rd year running in France, VillaAuction.com brings increased exposure for rental property and markets remaining rental weeks to a new customer base.

VillaAuction.com is the new specialist online auction service that is dedicated to helping Holiday Villa & Gite owners increase occupancy and rental income.

All listings on our auction are free and our easy to use website makes it simple to add properties and manage the marketing of multiple rental weeks. Reserve prices can be set for all listings and winning bids are sent to by email.

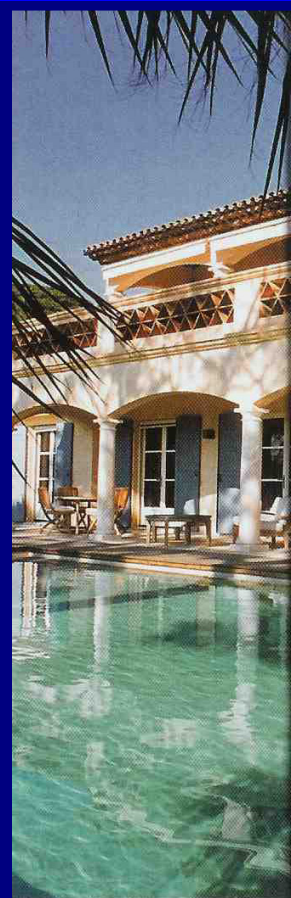

Unlike ebay there are no registration or listing fees, you only pay a small commission on completed sales through our auction.

Rental management companies are offered the ability to promote multiple properties and multiple weeks through one account that's easy to manage and increases revenue.

For holiday-makers looking for a Villa or Gite to rent this season, VillaAuction.com gives them access to realtime availability across a wide range of rental properties in France and Spain. With our comprehensive marketing campaigns VillaAuction.com reaches holiday-makers who are keen to book and excited at having the winning bid.

Travel bookings on the web are growing at a phenomenal rate with nearly 50 million people a year booking their holidays online.

www.VillaAuction.com provides a unique route for rental property owners and their management companies to target online travel bookers at no additional upfront marketing cost.
