

THE PLACE FOR YEAR-ROUND FUN

Park City has grown from an obscure mining town into one of the premier resort destinations in the West. Tucked away at the base of Utah's Wasatch Mountains, Park City boasts deep-powder skiing and snowboarding in the winter, and golfing, biking, hiking and fishing in the summer. All of which makes it the perfect place to celebrate the great outdoors.

If a slower pace is more to your liking, you'll find plenty of ways to idle away your time. Stroll along Main Street browsing the many one-of-a-kind shops and boutiques that give downtown its unique flavor. And speaking of flavors, Park City is home to over 100 restaurants and pubs — many of them featuring award-winning cuisine. Crazy as it may sound, Park City actually has more chefs per capita than Paris, France. Which means you won't have to sacrifice big-city tastes during your small-town adventure.

A SKIING AND SNOWBOARD PARADISE

Powder hounds from around the world converge on Park City each winter. Most people assume it's the 350+ inches of The Greatest Snow on Earth™ that draws them here. Others are certain it's the service and amenities of Park City's three world-class mountain resorts that make all the difference. A word of advice: throw away any preconceived notions and let the mountains speak for themselves.

Deer Valley Resort

Few resorts compare to Deer Valley. Consistently ranked among the top-five resorts in the world, Deer Valley is at once elegant, yet down to earth. A limit on daily lift tickets prevents overcrowding, and award-winning cuisine and service await you when you take a break from the meticulously groomed trails. Site of the 2002 Olympic slalom, mogul and aerial events, Deer Valley is the place for incredible skiing, food and service.

Park City Mountain Resort

Park City Mountain Resort was designed with the expert in mind. Site of the men's and women's giant slalom competition and all snowboarding events during the 2002 Olympic Winter Games, some of the world's finest skiers (including the U.S. Ski Team) train here. But don't worry — with miles of groomed runs, skiers of all skill levels will feel comfortable.

The Canyons

Whether you're a black diamond expert or still working on your technique, The Canyons is a popular destination for both skiers and snowboarders alike. With 3,300 acres spanning seven mountains, The Canyons offers a wide variety of terrain and elevations — not to mention three on-mountain restaurants.

FOR EVERYTHING THERE IS A SEASON

Here's a little known fact: Life in Park City doesn't come to a standstill when it's not snowing. For instance, you know it's spring when the foothills explode with colorful wildflowers. Late summer, artists take up residence and the Park City Arts Festival takes center stage. Hikers and bikers delight each fall as spectacular autumn leaves light up the mountains. And writers, directors, producers, actors and fans descend each winter to screen the latest cutting-edge films during the Sundance International Film Festival.

There's also America's Opening Alpine World Cup Race each November, and the National Off-Road Biking Association race brings the national circuit to Deer Valley each July. Which proves there's something for everyone in Park City.

A WARM PLACE TO CALL HOME

Resorts West stands alone in representing the best homes and condominiums in Park City. How can we make such a claim? By regularly refusing to represent properties that don't meet the high standards we know our customers expect. In fact, one owner was so interested in working with Resorts West, he spent thousands of dollars upgrading the furniture in his home just to meet our standards. That's merely one example of the commitment to quality you'll see the minute you walk through the door.

Of course, many of our properties offer all the extras including fireplaces, hot tubs, surround-sound home theater systems and more. And if you need a certain something to make your stay more comfortable, we'll make sure we find it for you.

SERVICE THAT TRANSCENDS YOUR EXPECTATIONS

Some might call it a strange business philosophy, but at Resorts West, we're not interested in becoming the area's largest property management company. The way we see it, outstanding service is the result of staying small enough to keep our customers' interests first.

Actually, we're at your service even before your vacation begins. We start by asking how we can customize your vacation to meet your unique needs: corporate retreats, honeymoons, anniversaries, birthdays — whatever the special occasion may be. Prior to your arrival, we're happy to stock your refrigerator, make car rental reservations or set up guided fly-fishing or skiing trips using our in-house ski and fishing guide. We'll even book a private chef so you can take a vacation from the kitchen. It's our way of ensuring your Park City vacation is unsurpassed and unforgettable.

SPEND YOUR VACATION RELAXING, NOT TRAVELING

Thanks to its close proximity to the Salt Lake City International Airport (just 36 miles away), you can start your Park City vacation quickly. In fact, you can be relaxing by an open fire less than an hour after collecting your bags at the terminal.

A Resorts West representative will meet you at our office (conveniently located on the road to Park City), and then escort you to your vacation home. There, we'll walk you through the property, pointing out all the extras and getting you up to speed on everything that is available in Park City during your vacation.

So, when you're ready for the rewarding, luxury vacation you deserve, call us at (800) 541-9378. We'll work with you to find the ideal vacation property to complement the perfect vacation.
